

Imagine a place where your needs as a new mom come first.

A retreat where you're supported by 24/7 healthcare professionals, an on-call lactation consultant, and a team ready to answer your questions in real time. A place where you can step away from life's obligations and the endless to-do list—giving yourself permission to rest, recover, and bond with your baby.

At Levata, you'll enjoy nutritious in-room meals, spa services, and a quiet, private suite designed for comfort and recovery. You're free to soak in every moment of bonding with your baby. And when you need rest, our 24/7 professional nursery is there to care for your baby—giving you peace of mind and the space to truly recharge. This is a place where both connection and recovery are honored.

This isn't a luxury—it's care you deserve.
